Societies and Organizations of the Church

Sunday School

The Sunday School is more than a department of the church; it is the church studying the Bible. The Sunday School Bulletin for 1906 presents the work in detail. Every effort is being made to apply the best educational methods to the study of religion. The system of graded courses is so thoroughly planned and carried out that it is possible for everybody to select a useful course. The object is to teach definite Biblical truths in such a manner as to inspire Christian living.

Faculty

The Faculty of the Sunday School is composed of the Superintendent and the teachers, subject to the supervision of the Pastor and the Church Committee.

Executive Committee

The Pastor, the Superintendent, and the Assistants constitute the Executive Committee.
